It's Up to Us!

Sonoma County Climate Activist Network

Community Summit

Sunday, March 15 1:30 - 6:00

Speakers: Daily Acts Executive Director Trathen Heckman, Tayse Crocker of North Bay Organizing Project, Cory O’Gorman graduate student, Sonoma State University, Sonoma County Poet Laureate Maya Khosla, Elizabeth Kaiser of Singing Frogs Farm, Steve Birdlebough from Transportation and Land Use Coalition, Youth Leaders from Sunrise Movement, Youth Leaders from Schools for Climate Action including Kate Roney, Woody Hastings Environmentalist of the Year, County Supervisor Lynda Hopkins.

The summit is a call to action, a call to connect, a call to build on common ground. We call on concerned community members, students, and Sonoma County climate activist groups to attend. We are the decision-makers and leaders of the local and global changes we must create. Starting right here, right now. Together.

Odd Fellows Hall
545 Pacific Ave
Santa Rosa, 95404

Free; Donations Gratefully Accepted
RSVP: FORM 707-595-0320